About This Game

Can YOU defeat 7004 enemies in one sitting?

Incel Clicker is fun, casual grinding with raging boomers, miniguns, and all the major Soiree hallmarks, including a rousing soundtrack and plenty of challenge.

- Select your protagonist from a posse of six dynamic champions, including Bats, the only female with Klinefelter Syndrome and Sober Cole, a time-travelling alcoholic
- Collect coins and purchase special attacks, such as a righteous volley of minigun fire and the legendary Autistic Screech!
 - Play the Wheel of Incel (if you dare) to either win amazing prizes - or a terminal case of untreated depression
 - Use Pick Up Artist books to summon beta male orbiters who will either work for you or the enemy
 - Face off with manchildren, trolls, furries and hundreds of other powerful foes
 - Open chests to discover special items, such as cucumbers, lube, fedoras, and many others

incel clicker

looks to me like money wasted. I expected a flight sim that works on VR with Vive such as described on Steam. I started CAP 2 on Steam VR, The game did show up in my Vive Pro headset, but the controllers were not visible, let alone extra hardware such as CH flightstick, paddle or throttle. Interacting with the mouse with a VR-headset on is odd and besides that, the mouse operation of the game is rather awkward. I hope there will be some improvement soon.. Fun game and pretty chill. Only downside is that you feel like a disabled person playing sports against athletes...you cant lose.. This Game Is Kinda Like Minecraft,Roblox, And Terraria Mixed Wich Is a Perfect Idea.

Keep Up the good work and Keep The Updates Agoing :D

The Graphics Are Amazing And It Works Well For LowEnd Computer's Or Laptop's

Also The Mobile Version Is Exacly Like The Pc Version Wich is What Everybody Would Expect.. Trump approved?

Yeah it's good!

To be honest though if this game is on sale get it for you and your friends and refund it if you really dont have fun, the servers are slow and the movement system is broken which is part of its charm overall it was fun for the hour or so i played it with a friend

Keep in mind this game had a bunch of "Glitches" but there is really no way to hate this game even if your bad at fps.. A super charming, witty visual novel/game! Would 10/10 read to my terrible child.

Decent puzzler. Puzzles range from easy to pretty hard - a good mix. Some I'm still working on (as of writing this).

Graphics, audio, and interface are clear, simple, and nice. Haven't seen any bugs or glitches, although I haven't tested the hint yet.

The biggest problem is that you can solve the smaller puzzles relatively quickly by just trying every combination.

Also, it could really do with an editor and user-made puzzle exchange system. Maybe for v2.0.

While it's a simple game IMHO it's good value at the current price.. This game has been part of my childhood. I love Putt-Putt. Travels Through Time is a very fun point-and-click game. How help Putt-Putt changes each time, so each time you replay, there's always something new to try and figure out! I recommend this game to anyone who is a fan of Putt-Putt and Humongous games!. Wow, this is really a fun polished little game. A really nice pleasant surprise.. It (obviously) can sometimes get annoying. But, you can turn it off. So I rate it around a 6/7 out of 10. Party Hard Tycoon is a wild ride, but does it live up to the hype? Or are you the person that has to inject it with HYPE!

Let's just start right off comparing the original Party Hard to Tycoon. Is it the same? How are they different? Tiny Build shows off its cleverness with this new release in a few unique ways. Right off the bat with the glaring obvious is the re-using of the entire Party Hard universe and engine. Looking back at the first game, it becomes apparent that it would be an absolute travesty to throw away all those sprites and levels, which are pretty darn magnificent in all their pixel glory. Tycoon recycles this all for a completely new game--stressing the fact that it IS a brand new game, even if old characters pop their head in for a visit.

In Tycoon, you play a party promoter, starting from the bottom and working your way to the top. It's like a coke-fueled, neon Cinderella story of sorts. You throw trash parties in the beginning, working with a meager budget, earning little by little. The success of your parties lands you new jobs from a very peculiar cast of characters. The dialog is appropriately channeled through texting--the authenticity of it all being pushed further by things like typos and text-language. The characters are bold, loud and completely unapologetic, as is the person you play. It's all very interesting and instead of being a nuisance, the story ends up being a welcomed side track to it all (not to mention how you progress via rewards!).

You work on a calendar, which is marked for better or for worse on buffs for certain days, days that aren't good for your parties, and a colouring system. Since you work at a low level and climb up a ladder, there's different clientele to impress at every corner. The poor and the rich have their own flavour of a good time, and it's up to you to tailor accordingly. It's a smart game, and a lot of it is rooted in the tracking of your money and resources. You have to build a fan base, simulating word of mouth. You gain rewards for 'likes', and lose fans when you don't fulfill them. If you can't keep your 'hype' going, the party ends. It's addicting to say in the least--each party you throw having to be better than the last. Seeing the screen light up like a Christmas tree with either attendance, likes, hype or money is more than enough to keep me playing.

You're dropped in at the deep end. There's no tutorial level or much in terms of live help, except the occasional mouseover suggesting if a piece of decor might be good or bad for a certain vibe. The mechanics of losing and gaining fans, followers, aren't clear either. To me, this obfuscation adds a good dimension of gut feeling, and trial and error. Still haven't quite figured it out but it's a heck of a lot of fun getting there.

Despite a few bugs (some of the text messages were unavailable, when notification was showing, and it seems perhaps some placeholder text is still left in there), it seems like Tiny Build is on its A game pre-releasing in early access. I can't find much to say that's wrong about this game if it's your type of play--it's fun to get invested, fun to throw the parties themselves, and fun to live the life of a party planner. Berry couple 2 is released!:

https://store.steampowered.com/app/1062980/Berry_couple_2/. Contest! Preparation for the party:

The time for summer parties is so close! Loud music, explosive laughter, dancing nonstop and so many bright personalities who know what to tell about themselves and how to present themselves. And only she doesn't know what to say...

Sharks of business, can we help this beautiful creature? Wake up your inner master of the eloquent words.
We're starting up a contest on the best description for character Dose of happiness

Come up with a description for our lady. Use colourful turn of phrase and jokes. The vivid example for you is a description of the character Killer "He is very single-minded. He won't stop chasing his target till the very end."

We'll select the most interesting concept among your suggestions to use it in our game :-)

The Sale is on, get prepared! Grab Lightform on sale for 75% off for a limited time.. Star Explorers Unavailable:

Somehow the "buy" button for Star Explorers has been disabled. I have contacted Steam Support, no word from them yet.

Hopefully this will be resolved soon, sorry for any inconvenience.

As a result, I have also disabled the Schmidt Workshops Super-Fantastic MegaBundle, since Star Explorers is not included in it right now. It will be reactivated as soon as the game is available.

I wrote an article about this issue here:

. Victory Day!:

Star Conflict team wishes all pilots a happy Victory Day in Europe! In honour of Victory Day, we announce a grand sale, which will last till 06-00 UTC of May 10!

- Premium ships 1-3 ranks — 500 galactic standards.
- Premium ships 4-6 ranks — 900 galactic standards.
- Special price on all of the premium ships 7-15 ranks — 1945 galactic standards.

*Excluding the ships, that can be crafted.

Festive stickers and pattern!. Small update:

A small update (5.1) this time:

- Environmental effects are now correctly slowed down when you are using an Orb of Speed.
- Treasure generation has been tuned a bit, so that you can no longer spend most of your time in Icy Lands (where it is safe because you have not collected many Ice Diamonds yet) near to the Great Wall, and only dip into the Alchemist Lab to take lots of Elixirs of Life when it is safe on the other side. (This works for all combinations of lands)
- A Turkish translation has been added. Thanks to zulmetefza & Seyacim!
- It should now work on OSX 10.8 and 10.7

Have fun playing!
